About Concord Mall

The Concord Mall in Brandywine, Delaware is one of the region's most recognizable retail destinations, offering a mix of national retailers, local shops, and dining options. Strategically located along U.S. Route 202, the mall benefits from high visibility and accessibility, drawing customers from Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. Over the years, Concord Mall has served as a central hub for shopping and community activity in northern Delaware, adapting to shifting consumer preferences by introducing new retailers, lifestyle brands, and food concepts. Its proximity to affluent residential neighborhoods and major employment centers adds to its retail strength, while redevelopment potential positions it as an attractive opportunity for future investment, whether through reimagined retail, mixed-use development, or experiential concepts that reflect evolving market demand.

New Castle County, the most populous county in Delaware, serves as the state's economic, cultural, and commercial engine. Anchored by the city of Wilmington, the county is home to a diverse mix of industries including financial services, healthcare, education, advanced manufacturing, and logistics, with major employers like ChristianaCare, JPMorgan Chase, DuPont, and Amazon shaping its economic landscape. The county benefits from a strategic location along the I-95 corridor, providing direct connectivity to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and New York, making it highly attractive for corporate offices and distribution facilities. New Castle County also boasts a well-educated workforce, strong household incomes, and access to top universities, which together foster innovation and long-term growth. With a combination of established institutions, ongoing redevelopment, and expanding infrastructure, the county presents robust opportunities for commercial real estate investment across retail, office, industrial, and mixed-use sectors.
